Emily loves to draw pictures. She throws her scrap paper everywhere. Finally, one day she drew a beautiful picture of a girl after many failures. Her mom loves it. After that her mom said, "It's time to eat". She went downstairs to eat.

Then the picture started moving! It tried to get off the paper. When it was out of the paper it moved from one scrap paper to another! The picture avoided the eraser of course but when it discovered the pencil it decorated itself.

Emily went upstairs and to her surprise she saw the picture waving at her. She was so shocked. She went downstairs and told her mom "THE PICTURE MOVED!!!" When her mom went in the room what she noticed was just lots of scrap papers on the floor and one picture on Emily's desk. Her mom saw no movement at all on the drawing but they were both shocked when they noticed it turned into a horrible picture now. Truly, the picture moved!

Without warning, the ugly picture moves out of the paper and runs after Emily and her mom. The picture screamed loudly, "Stop wasting precious papers and stop hurting our environment!" That's the time when Emily woke up to a bad dream and screamed, "Promise, I will take good care of precious papers from now on!"

Next day, Emily's brother John was drawing a picture. After many disappointment and many scrap papers, all of a sudden John saw his drawing move and .....
