

Ralph Wolff –

Past president of WASC.

He currently serves as an independent policy consultant focusing on accreditation reform and policy development, competency-based education and other innovations to improve access, completion and quality, and has begun a major study comparing structures and practices of quality assurance agencies globally, including an emphasis on international branch campuses. A graduate of Tufts University, Wolff received his J.D. with honors from the National Law Center at George Washington University. He is currently a Fellow of Meridian International, a global think tank, and a Fellow of the World Academy of Art and Science.